New York, June 22.—The Tribune says: "The failure of the Republican Central committee to hold a meeting Tuesday night for want of a quorum caused considerable disassion among adherents of the Conkling ma-nine yest-rday. This organization has been for a long time the power which kept Gen-eral Arthur at the head of the party in this State. It was also the chief support of Sena-tor Conkling in controlling State conventions, and in this way the party in the State.
The Central committee is made up of delegates elected by various Assembly district associations. When General Arthur was in exclusive control of the customhouse patronage, he managed to get his most trusted followers in control of a majority of the Assembly district associations by means of combinations with Democrats. A good deal of city patronage was also brought under General Arthur's control. The power of this patronage gave him ascendancy in nearly all the Assembly district associations. It is now manifest that Conkling and General Arthur cannot control the next deligation from this city to the State Convention. Hence there is no longer any doubt the party will be reorganized here.
